The Central Intelligence Agency has been extremely helpful in providing highly qualified lecturers in support of various courses of instruction at the Naval Intelligence School. This assistance is greatly appreciated. In May 1960 the postgraduate class in Naval Intelligence will commence a course which embraces the subject of [redacted]. It will be greatly appreciated if the services of a lecturer could be made available to address the students on the subject "Intelligence for Special Operations". A period of two hours, commencing at 0830 on 18 May 1960, has been set aside for the lecturer's use.

The previous class at the Naval Intelligence School was privileged to hear [redacted] of your staff present an exceptionally informative lecture on this subject. If convenient, a similar presentation is desired. The current class consists of thirty-one students with rank of lieutenant through commander. All of these officers are cleared for information up to and including Top Secret.

If this request meets with your approval Commander A. A. STEINBECK, U.S. Navy is authorized to provide liaison with your representative. Commander STEINBECK may be reached on Code 1215, Extension 440.

Sincerely,
